

JYOTISHA · SEMESTER I · THE LAST NAVAMSHA LESSON

Karakamsha & the Khara Pada

Where the soul is standing, what can dissolve it, and the one pada that keeps biting.

• 22 August

• English and Hindi class, merged

• D9, the subtle sharira

Both sessions of the same lesson are woven together here, in English, with nothing said twice. The Hindi class carried a good deal the English one did not, and wherever a passage comes only from there it is marked हि HINDI CLASS so you know where to go back and listen.

The chart you cannot touch

Navamsha is your subtle sharira, your subtle existence, your mantra sharira. It also carries very high importance whenever marriage is being analysed. Both are true at once, and which one is speaking depends on the question you brought.

By now you should be able to look at the degrees of a graha and estimate for yourself which navamsha it falls in, whether it is Vargottama, whether it sits in Pushkaramsha.

That much is assumed. What follows goes further than a first semester normally goes, and he said so himself: "I have never taught this in first semester. I know it is too little, too early, but still I wanted to share."

One distinction has to be set down before anything else, because the whole of the next chapter rests on it. The Lagna of the rashi chart is one thing. The Lagna of the Navamsha is your dharma, and it works at the subtle level. हि HINDI CLASS Hold that, and the 12th house from it stops being a mystery.

Because the chart is subtle, it is also delicate. Two questions from the room made that concrete.

Two babies born in the same hospital, in rooms side by side. Same planets, same everything. Will they have the same life?

It cannot happen in the same moment. If at all, there has to be a difference of 24 seconds, one vighati. Only one human soul can come in each vighati. An animal soul can, but only one human soul. "A universal law which nobody knows."

And the vighati moves with space: every 27 to 28 kilometres, the local time shifts by that same 24 seconds. So two babies can be born in the same second if they are that far apart. Watch a population clock and five numbers appear at once; they are in different parts of the world.

ASKED IN CLASS

Navamsha is such a powerful chart, but then the birth time becomes critical. How exact does it have to be?

Navamsha still leaves you roughly plus or minus 14 minutes to play with. The order of importance runs: rashi chart, Navamsha, then Shashtyamsha, one rashi broken into sixty. Past that sits Nadi amsha, each navamsha broken into twelve, so one rashi in 108 pieces. Understand that sensitivity. Both are very important for tapping the supra conscious level, the depth, the karmic account. And we do nothing with them, because we are not sure of the birth time.

On rectification he was blunt: none of the techniques are 100 percent foolproof, and if somebody claims otherwise, he is not sure about it. When a student's time had been shifted by about a minute and a half by her mentor, purely from reading her career, and it then also explained her Caesarean birth, his answer was to rely on it. As she learns more, she will see for herself that it was the right thing.

ASKED IN CLASS

There is an Arudha Lagna in Navamsha too. But Navamsha is your subtle layer, and Arudha Lagna is what people think of you.

People are in the grosser world; their energies are not in the subtle world. So Arudha Lagna in the rashi chart is what people think of you, and Arudha Lagna in Navamsha is what the Devatas think of you.

He stopped there on purpose: Arudha Lagna is a very deep concept, and this was only a name being popped. Nothing more has been taught about it yet.

ASKED IN CLASS

One house, read from three places

Last week covered the 10th, the 4th, the 7th, the 8th and the trine of 1, 5, 9. One house in Navamsha had still not been given its due, and it is the one nobody talks about.

From D1 Lagna

THE GROSS LETTING GO

What one gives up and renounces, what you step back from, where the money goes. Expenditure, withdrawal, vairagya in the material world.

From D9 Lagna

THE END OF YOUR DHARMA

Sleep, bed, private life, the intimate dimension. Thoughts coming to a stop and the mind emptying, so meditation deepens. And, because the D9 Lagna is dharma, the expenditure of dharma itself.

From Karakamsha

THE REAL DISSOLUTION

Moksha, emancipation, release of the soul. The true ahamkara antakara: the dissolution of the self happens here, and nowhere else.

Why the D9 twelfth cuts both ways

Take the good side first. This house empties the mind. Your thoughts stop, and that is what takes you deep in meditation and gives you good sleep, when the 12th of Navamsha is sound. हि HINDI CLASS

Now the cost. The Navamsha Lagna is your dharma, so the 12th from it is the expenditure of dharma, and dharma rests on ahamkara. Your commitment, your ethics, the processes you keep, the moral values you hold, all of them stand on some form of "I am a good man, this is right, this is how it should be." There is dur-ahamkara and there is sad-ahamkara, and they are not the same thing: the ego that keeps you on dharma is the good kind. Dissolve it in the subtle and you may also drift off dharma. हि HINDI CLASS

Which is why this house carries what it carries in marriage. Count it from the partner: the 7th of Navamsha is your partner, so your 12th is the 6th from them, the house of enmity towards your own spouse. Combinations here can cause promiscuity, and he named the shape of them without opening the subject: Venus going into the D9 twelfth, Mars arriving with it; Mars in a Venus rashi, Venus alongside; Venus in a Mars rashi; Venus there with Saturn's drishti falling on it. हि HINDI CLASS The detail waits for the marriage chapter, which is being extended next semester precisely for this.

So when you put the 12th house on the Navamsha, put it there in the context of dharma and of marriage. It does not simply mean expense.

When I teach this one, nobody talks about the 12th house of Navamsha anyway.

— IN CLASS —

Karakamsha, where the whole chart looks

There is one point in Navamsha that is the most crucial of all. The moment it is defined, your entire focus goes there: the rashi holding your Chara Atma Karaka in D9. Karaka plus Amsha gives Karakamsha. This is your spiritual seed, and it shows where your ignorance has settled at the subtle level.

Chara Atma Karaka

its rashi in D9

Karakamsha

the environment working on your Atma

There is a whole Karakamsha Kundali as well, cast by treating the Karakamsha as the Lagna and reading every house from there. That belongs to the spiritual Jyotish chapter; this is the indication only.

हि HINDI CLASS

The bhava it falls in matters. But the rashi matters more, because a rashi is an environment, and an environment constantly changes whoever sits inside it.

He made it physical. Suppose your nature is Sun-prominent: at home, in the office, you are the boss, a king. Now seat that king among artists, among creative people, and make him live his whole life there. Slowly the king in you finishes and an artist is born.

हि HINDI CLASS

That is what the rashi is doing to your Atma Karaka. Such people show the qualities of their Atma Karaka at the start, and gradually take on the qualities of the rashi it is sitting in. The environment is changing the ignorance itself.

Which gives the striking consequence: whoever you are in this lifetime, what you will be in the next is read from the rashi of the Atma Karaka. There is a view that the lord of that navamsha rashi becomes your Atma Karaka, your ignorance-carrier, in the next birth. If it sits in a Venus amsha, the Atma aligns with Bhavar Loka: material pleasure, relationship, beauty, glamour, music, art. In a Sun amsha, with the Manipura, probably Swarga Loka.

He was careful here. There are texts that claim to show which loka a soul came from and which it is going to. There is no evidence; nobody comes back to confirm it. Very specific grahas are assigned to each loka in different scriptures, and looking at real lives he could not relate to them, so the whole system was left out of this curriculum. Someone good, kind and spiritual would show as heading to Narka Loka. We stay with the rashi placement only, because that much is logical.

And ignorance is what we are talking about all along. Agyan hi ahamkara hai. Ignorance is ego. So the end of that ego is read from the 12th from Karakamsha, which is the next chapter.

THE RASHI HE WAS ASKED ABOUT, AND THE CHART HE OPENED TO PROVE IT

हि HINDI CLASS

Meena amsha, and why satsang is what holds people

Parashara: one whose Atma Karaka sits in Meena amsha is a very mature soul. Spiritual, detached, knowledgeable, pious, near moksha. But look at who owns Meena and it opens up: not Jupiter alone, Jupiter and Ketu Maharaj together, param gyan and vairagya. Highest knowledge with total detachment. That combination makes a saint, and it turns up only in the chart of someone who arrived carrying that level of maturity.

Then the detail almost nobody states: the last navamsha of every water sign is Meena amsha. So if the Atma Karaka is already in a water rashi and then lands in Meena amsha, water is meeting water, and the path is bhakti. Bhajan, kirtan, sankirtan. That is what carries such a soul to mukti.

Cancer	Cn	Le	Vi	Li	Sc	Sg	Cp	Aq	Pi
Scorpio	Cn	Le	Vi	Li	Sc	Sg	Cp	Aq	Pi
Pisces	Cn	Le	Vi	Li	Sc	Sg	Cp	Aq	Pi

the ninth navamsha, every time

Cancer, Scorpio and Pisces each divide into nine, and the ninth is always Pisces.

Gurudev's own chart

He asked the class a question first. Apart from Gurudev himself, what is the one thing in the organisation that binds people to it most? People joined for many reasons, but the majority join through satsang, because satsangs like that do not happen anywhere else.

Then the reason. Gurudev's Atma Karaka is Jupiter, exalted, at 29 degrees of Cancer, which puts it in Meena amsa. A water sign Atma Karaka landing in the Meena amsa of that water sign. So a great Guru shakti has come to the earth with an exalted Atma Karaka, and that shakti is turning into a Guru shakti that is also completely detached, because Meena is moving towards total maturity through Ketu Maharaj.

Two things only: the dignity of the Atma Karaka, and the rashi it has gone into. From that you can see what kind of soul has come and which way it is changing.

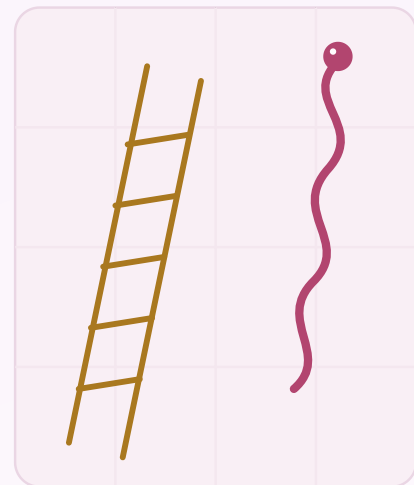

He then pulled it straight back. Meena amsa will happen to every twelfth person, and every twelfth person is not a saint. Do not take this as a dictum. It is one sutra. When the spirituality module is taught in full he will give forty more like it, and then you check how many are fulfilled and how many are not, and only from that do you say how much inclination towards spirituality there is.

Snakes and ladders was a spiritual instrument first

The game we know is the frivolous version of Moksha Sopan. The original had 72 boxes, eight and nine, and each row carried the nine qualities of one chakra, from Muladhara upward, with the eighth level above everything.

You play it with something personal that has held your energy a long time, a ring, an earring, something that can represent you. After five or six rounds of dice it shows you which chakra your energy is actually stuck at. He taught it in the ashram, where it became very popular. In Nepal he built it human size on a 25 by 25 foot platform, and people stood inside the board and played, and had amazing experiences of where their lives were moving and where they were stuck. He shared it with Gurudev about fifteen years ago, and Bharatma kept the board and the book.

The lesson from the board. In the Agnya chakra there is a ladder of bhakti that leads straight to moksha, and right beside it a snake of arrogance, because bhakti brings a little egoistic arrogance too. So even if your chart shows the Atma has reached the pinnacle in Meena amsha, that is not a guarantee. It means you have reached there. Malefics and malefic aspects are the snakes that pull you back, and you begin again. Equally, if you are not there, a ladder may still carry you up: an exchange. And that exchange can be aspected by a node, a snake sitting there, biting you back down.

bhakti, and arrogance beside it

There is nothing certain till you are enlightened. The only certainty is the presence of a Guru who will eventually lead you. Not necessarily this lifetime.

— ON HOW TO HOLD ALL OF IT —

My Atma Karaka is Rahu and it is sitting in my Lagna in D9. Does that mean anything?

It means a lot. Scripturally, Atma Karaka in the Lagna or the 7th house of Navamsha shows a person who rises to royalty. With it in the Lagna you are usually not born into a mediocre family at all; you are born with a silver spoon. In the 7th you may be born mediocre and still rise to royalty.

Then come the buts. Is that graha clearly the Atma Karaka, or could a few minutes of birth time change the navamsha degrees and swap it? And it has to be supported: the dhana yogas, the Lagna rashi, the Atma Karaka's overall strength and status, and then Rahu Maharaj arriving here on top of all that. The Atma Karaka has to go into some bhava, after all. Every sixth person does not become a king.

ASKED IN CLASS

What can actually dissolve it

The Atma Karaka represents your agyan, your ignorance. The rashi it sits in changes that ignorance but never dissolves it. The only thing with the ability to dissolve it is the 12th from Karakamsha. And what sits there decides which part of the ignorance goes, and which part stays.

He worked the elements out loud. A graha of water in that house will dissolve the salt inside you completely, and the sugar. It will not touch the plastic in you, or the metal. Air cannot dissolve; it can shake things a little. Earth will get there eventually, in two hundred, three hundred, five hundred years. What burns everything immediately is fire. हि HINDI CLASS That is why fire is called Pavaka, the purifier: the one that purifies by dissolving impurities, and why tapah is done by sustaining and igniting five kinds of fire within us.

So a fiery graha in the 12th from Karakamsha is what makes you do tapasya and dissolves your karmas. In a watery sign the fire is not lit properly. In an airy sign there is too much air and the fire is unsteady. A fiery graha in a fiery sign works fantastic.

Water JALA

Dissolves the salt and the sugar in you, and a great deal of karma is of that kind. The plastic and the metal simply sit in it.

Air VAYU

Cannot dissolve. It shakes things a little, and it depletes earth slowly, taking a very long time about it.

Earth PRITHVI

It will finish the job in perfection, and take two hundred, three hundred, five hundred years to do it. हि HINDI CLASS

Sun's fire JATHARAGNI

The digestive fire, which is fasting. It takes physical karma, the toxins, what sits on the borderline of subtle and physical. Not all of it: the Buddha fasted for many years and was enlightened only after he ate, when a village woman offered him a little rice and salt. Documented in the Buddhist texts, not hearsay.

Mars' fire AMBITION

Destroys lethargy and a great deal besides, but Mars is the one giving the ambition. While desire and ambition remain, how will the ego dissolve? Your ego will have to bow in front of your ambitions, which is a different matter altogether. हि HINDI CLASS

Ketu's fire MOKSHA KARAKA

Put any graha in that house and none of them dissolves the ego completely. Only Ketu Maharaj converts a thing into smoke and ash, into vibhuti. And ash is the last part: nothing remains that could be burned any further, nothing goes beyond it. That is the power sitting in the 12th from Karakamsha.

Remember this. It will be a very useful statement when you go deeper into spiritual Jyotish.

Even Ketu is conditioned by the rashi. In a water sign he will let a few things go, saying leave it. In air he will not pay enough attention, and whatever remains, remains. In earth he will do it in perfection and take a very long time about it. In a fire sign, it is ash. हि HINDI CLASS

And the burning needs support so that nothing obstructs it, which is where the drishti comes in. Jupiter looking at that Ketu is the eye of knowledge. If not Jupiter, then Venus, and the thing gets burned through bhakti. Or the Moon, and it is burned by love, by karuna. Any benefic drishti on that Ketu, and the scriptures say such a person is liberated in this life. हि HINDI CLASS

When Ketu transits your Moon you feel everything shattering, your world shattered. Unless you have already given up this world from your heart. Say "this is not my world" and Ketu Maharaj will not touch it. Say "mine, mine, mine" and everything gets burned.

An exalted graha in that house shows the person going into that kind of realm at a higher level. Conjunction or exchange with Ketu and you turn into a Devanshu. Atma Karaka exalted shows you are not an ordinary soul: great sankalpa shakti, great willpower. Exalted and Vargottama, better. Exalted, Vargottama and in Pushkaramsha, fantastic.

HIS OWN REALITY CHECK, RUN TWICE

Now count how many people that should liberate

Ketu Maharaj will sit in the 12th from the Atma Karaka in one chart out of twelve, because he has to sit somewhere. Three of the twelve signs are fiery, so a fiery one is one in four of those. Multiply, and you are at one in forty-eight. "Every forty-eighth person should get liberated. It does not look like that in our class. Eight or ten people should be free by now."

So add the next condition, benefic drishti. There are three possibilities: a benefic drishti, no drishti, or a malefic drishti. That is one in three. Multiply again and you are at one in one hundred and forty-four. Still not so. Even then, two or three of us should have made it.

ADD FOUR OR FIVE
MORE SUTRAS

And that is the method, not a rejection. Add four or five more sutras and the probability keeps falling: one in a thousand, one in a lakh, one in a crore. That is when it starts to look right. Even then exceptions come. It will not stay simple if you try to solve it mathematically alone. We cannot deny the Rishis' words; we follow them, we honour them, and we look for the other clues. Never a sutra in isolation.

And even when there is no graha there and no sign of mukti at all, understand what that house is still doing: the 12th from Karakamsha is constantly at work freeing you from your ignorance. हि HINDI CLASS If it is empty, look at the drishti on it, graha drishti and rashi drishti both. If that too is thin, the analysis widens, and the widening is the whole of the next chapter.

My Atma Karaka is Vargottama, so the 12th from it is the same rashi in D1 and D9. But there is no graha there at all.

If the Atma Karaka is Vargottama then that is simply how it will be, and a Vargottama Atma Karaka is a good thing in itself. Empty of grahas is not empty: there is still a rashi, and there are drishtis falling on it. Use rashi drishti as well. That is how you go into deeper analysis. Asked separately whether drishti applies in the divisional charts at all, the answer was simply yes, it does.

ASKED IN CLASS

Saturn is my Atma Karaka, and the 12th from it holds Ketu in a fiery sign. But it is in the 8th house of Navamsha, and last week you said the 8th is a problem for married life.

Ketu Maharaj in the 8th house is good. Good for spirituality, and right now the context is spirituality, because you are asking about the 12th from Atma Karaka.

"When I say good or bad, you cannot apply it universally. The moment you say it is good for marriage, I will say no, it is not."

ASKED IN CLASS

So this house tells me whether the ignorance I was born for gets dissolved, and if not, whether I come back again for the same one?

There are conditions first. You need a spiritual bent, the fire to actually move on this path. If those are satisfied, this will definitely trigger it.

And you do not have only one ignorance. It is that in this lifetime you have chosen to overcome this one. His key, given almost in passing: any graha not forming a Mahapurusha yoga in your chart is a graha whose ignorance you are yet to overcome. If everything is exalted, as in Sri Ram's chart, Sri Krishna's, Gurudev's, things are different. You have already been there, and one or two things remain.

ASKED IN CLASS

Who is holding your hand

This is what the whole analysis is for: knowing which divine energy will lead you towards emancipation. Ishta means favourite. The one who is your favourite, or the one whose favourite you are. Your guiding angel, protecting you materially and spiritually, all your life.

The 12th from Karakamsha is where you start, and he was emphatic that you must not stop there. "Why are you leaving the rest?" Six windows open onto the same answer, and only together do they give you a divine form.

हि HINDI CLASS

WINDOW ONE

12th from Karakamsha

The graha sitting there, its strength, the rashi, the graha drishti and the rashi drishti falling on it.

WINDOW TWO

The 4th of Navamsha

Your heart. Who is sitting in your heart?
This is the one people leave out.

WINDOW THREE

The 10th of Navamsha

Whom you served in your past lives.
The karma you actually carried across.

WINDOW FOUR

The 5th of the rashi chart

Because mantra japa and sadhana began there.

WINDOW FIVE

The 9th of the rashi chart

Because divine grace is arriving from there.

WINDOW SIX

The 12th of the rashi chart

Something there is also working to end your ahamkara. See who it is.

How to weigh it. Highest importance to the graha sitting in the 12th from Karakamsha. If several sit there, the strongest of them. If one sits there and others aspect, take the drishti in as well. Then the rashi: a male or a female rashi points to the same divinity in masculine or feminine form. It is all calculation and analysis, and Jagannatha Hora will not deduce it for you.

And here is how a real reading sounds. Mars sitting in the 12th from Karakamsha, in Sagittarius, with Jupiter's drishti falling on that Sagittarius. Mars gives brahmacharya, Jupiter gives the Guru shakti, and Dhanu gives the dharma. So the form is a brahmachari Guru who works to establish dharma and to establish peace in the world. That is the Ishta.

🕉️ HINDI CLASS

Notice that no item in the list would have given you that on its own.

You will have to read

For the right kind of understanding of the divine forms to develop, you have to read them. The stories of different Gods and Devatas, heard and known properly. Knowing Krishna's birth story is not enough. Knowing what Shiva does is not enough.  HINDI CLASS

Then he showed why, by decoding one story into chart language in three moves.

ONE

Shiva opens the third eye

In anger, and Kamadeva is burned. The third eye stands for fire.

TWO

Who is Kamadeva in the chart?

Venus. And Venus burned by fire means combust. Not destroyed. Hidden behind the rays, the form simply stopped being visible.

THREE

Who brought him back?

Krishna, as his own son Pradyumna. So when Shiva burns every desire to ash, it is Krishna who generates them all again.

He asked the room and got wrong guesses, then stopped them: do not start guessing. This is not guess work. You will have to read.

That is also why the answer cannot be assembled arithmetically. If you decide you will only name Krishna when Mercury is present you will be stuck. Sun, Moon, Venus and Mercury bringing their influence together at once is what makes him say Krishna. You cannot learn this by doing one plus one equals two. You have to analyse the 12th house holistically, look at the whole chart, and see it from a bird's eye view.  HINDI CLASS

And then the part that is not calculation at all. Alongside the analysis, your own sattva and the voice of your inner self will tell you that this is the right Ishta Devata for this person. For that your mid brain has to stay activated, and that happens through sadhana: asana, Padma Sadhana, Sudarshan Kriya, meditation, Gayatri jaap. Then it works.  HINDI CLASS

If you get it wrong, nothing is lost

Do it with a feeling of surrender and mistakes do not really happen. And even if one does, there is nothing to worry about, because you have connected the person to a Devata.

Suppose you connect somebody to Bhagwan Krishna and their Ishta Devi was Radha Rani. Krishna will say, "now that you have connected to me, I am not letting you go," and he will take them by the hand himself: Radha Rani, this one has come to me, here, take them. Or to Shiva: here Mahadev, your devotee has arrived, he chants my mantra but he is yours.

Someone starts the bhakti of Bhagwan Shiva along with everyone else, and Shiva takes their hand and says go to Vrindavan, go and do the japa of Radha Rani, she is your Ishta Devi. हि HINDI CLASS

It is all divinity. They bring you to the right form and the right path anyway. So there is no need to worry much. But yes, if you know, it is a good thing.

Guru as the window. Gurudev is the Ishta Devata for everyone, and he is taking care of everyone. Yet every person connects through him to some Ishta. Some see Krishna in Gurudev, some Narayana, some Shiva, some see Devi Ma, and in Navratri you will see Ganapati in him, and Kartikeya Swami too. So through the Guru, every divine shakti is speaking to you. He is not one divine shakti. He is not only Krishna, though he is also Krishna. He is not only Shiva; there is Shiva tattva, Guru tattva, Krishna consciousness, the divine feminine, Ganapatya, Shakta. All the Agamas are inside him, as the Guru Puja says: all the Vedas, all the Agamas, all the Puranas live in him. So all that divinity is present at once, and our alignment stays with one of them. हि HINDI CLASS

He also noted that this knowledge runs further than the Ishta alone. There is a Dharma Devata, there is a Palan Devata, the sustaining deity, and more, all seen from Karakamsha and the 12th from it. That waits for the spirituality chapter. हि HINDI CLASS

Is there a list we can look at? And can Jagannatha Hora deduce this for us?

The list above is already shared in the notes and resources section. Jagannatha Hora will not tell you, because that is all calculation, and this is analysis and interpretation.

And then, unprompted: do not use AI to understand your Ishta Devata. There is an inspiration that comes from within. "Sometimes when I am consulting people I see some graha, but I strongly feel that this is the Ishta Devata. I rely more on my intuitive ability there than only on calculation." That is how the subtle world works, and to stay in that area while talking to people, you have to grow in sattva.

ASKED IN CLASS

Does the specific form matter? Standing Hanumanji or seated? Reclining Ganapati or sitting? Trunk to the left or the right?

Yes. These things matter. They have not been made this way for no reason. You can go into as much detail as you want to go into, and the more you read the more you will understand.  HINDI CLASS

ASKED IN CLASS

What about a parivartana, an exchange? Do I take all the grahas involved or only the two swapping?

Take the two that are swapping. But when you are calculating the Ishta Devata, the energies of different grahas come in anyway, and the Devatas have very subtle expressions that you start to recognise: which particular form to worship.

His worked reply, on a Sun and Mercury exchange between the 10th and 11th: why are you not thinking of Bhagwan Ram, the Ram avatar of Vishnu? And the same exchange is read again from Karakamsha. Also worth asking of an exchange in the 10th: whom did you worship in your past life?  HINDI CLASS

Are the ten Mahavidyas also associated with graha energies? Reading their stories, some felt close to certain grahas.

Yes, and that was the whole reason Mahavidya was introduced in that lesson: for each graha's purification, the highest form of Mother Divine is the Mahavidyas.

ASKED IN CLASS

Here is my 12th from Karakamsha, my rashi, my aspects. So who is my Ishta Devata?

He would not name one: "I cannot give you a name right now, because it requires the entire understanding." And he told the whole room the same thing: do not be in a hurry to conclude the Ishta Devata. Let some maturity come, let some perfection come. The bigger view starts to make sense, the bigger picture appears, and then you understand by yourself. Read more about the different forms in the meantime, some of the Pauranic texts.  HINDI CLASS

This was also where he drew the line for the rest of the course: do not bring two or three conditions and ask what it means. Bring your own reading, and he will correct it.

ASKED IN CLASS

The layer underneath

Here is the sentence that makes the whole of Bhavatmaka Navamsha obvious, and it was only said in the Hindi class: whichever rashi a graha occupies in the Navamsha, it is supporting that same rashi in your rashi chart, from behind, from below.

If a graha sits in your Libra in the Navamsha, it is feeding energy to Libra in the rashi chart too. And whatever bhava Libra occupies there, and whatever graha is sitting in it, both receive that energy. हि HINDI CLASS The Navamsha is the bottom layer and the rashi chart is the top layer, and the bottom one holds the top one up.

RASHI CHART, THE TOP LAYER

it feeds the rashi,
the bhava that rashi sits in,
and any graha sitting there

NAVAMSHA, THE LAYER UNDERNEATH

The same rashi, in both charts. Energy travels upward.

HIS OWN CHART, ONE हि HINDI CLASS

Jupiter in Capricorn navamsha

Capricorn is his 8th house. "So the knowledge of the 8th house just comes to me like this." Subtle knowledge of whatever bhava that rashi occupies simply arrives, when Jupiter is the one sitting there.

HIS OWN CHART, TWO

हि HINDI CLASS

Venus in Taurus navamsha

Gemini lagna, so Taurus is his 12th house. "Whenever I close my eyes and sit in meditation, such bliss comes, such bliss, what can I tell you." The joy of letting a thing go, he says, is a joy nothing else matches, and it is Venus energising the 12th.

He carried that second one all the way into a story, and said plainly that it is fact, not hypothesis. The ashram is also a 12th house matter. When he first came to the ashram he liked it so much that for two years he did not set foot outside the gate. People would say come, let us go out to eat, and he would answer: what, leave the ashram kitchen food and go eat rubbish outside? After two years Gurudev pushed him out, seeing he had got stuck to the place, and started sending him into the city on work. He would come back from the city feeling he had got dirty, and bathe. That was Venus, giving him the bliss of being in the ashram. हि HINDI CLASS

Now name what you are looking at

The naming is the same move in reverse. Take the graha's rashi in the Navamsha, find that rashi in your D1 chart, and see which bhava it occupies. That bhava names the amsha. It is not a house to house comparison, and he said so when someone tried to count 5 to 9 as a trine: "I am not comparing from here to here."

graha's rashi in D9

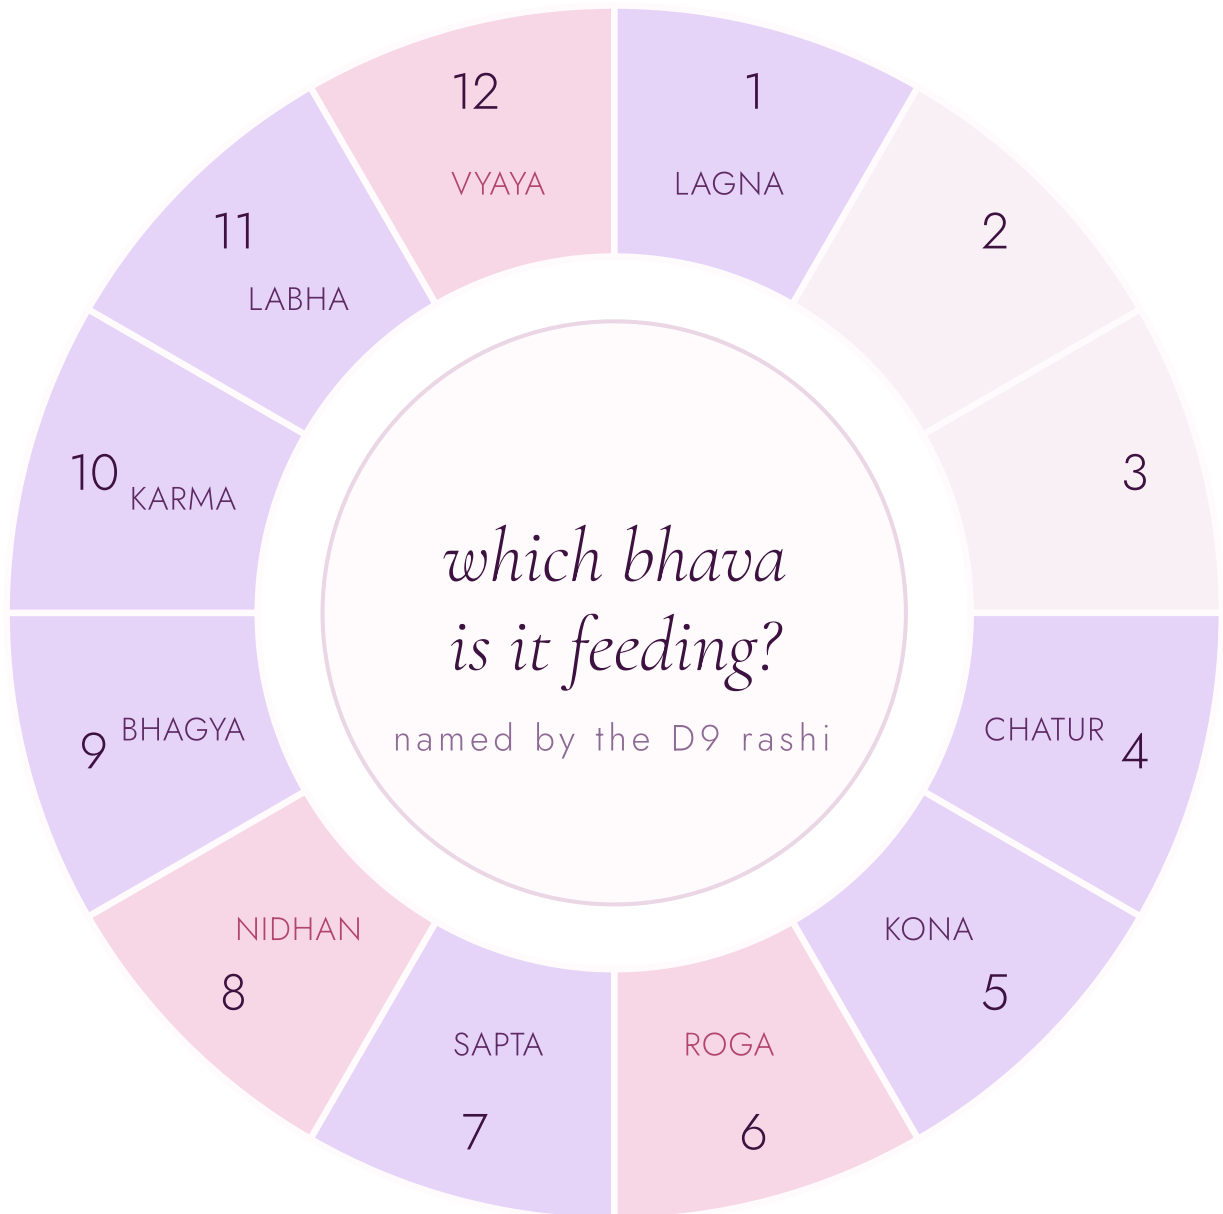

find that rashi in D1

which bhava is it?

that is the amsha

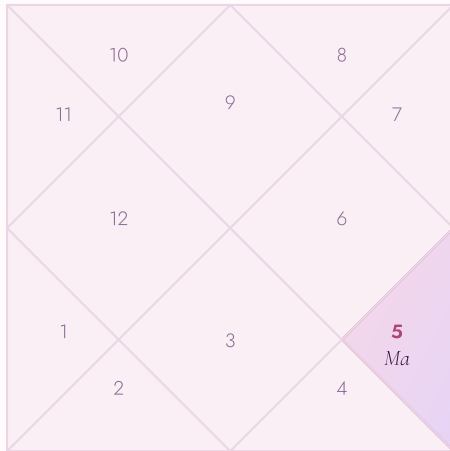

Every bhava has a name when a graha lands in its rashi in the Navamsha, and the names carry the verdict with them. हि HINDI CLASS

Land in a Kendra, a Kona, the 11th, the 9th or the Lagna and the results are better, the dignity goes up. Land in the 6th, the 8th or the 12th and it goes down. You would naturally want most of your grahas to sit, in the Navamsha, in those rashis that are the auspicious bhavas of your rashi chart.

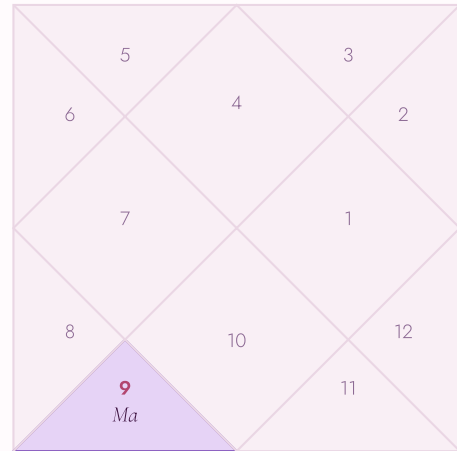

The 1st, 4th, 7th and 10th together are the Kendramsas, and the 10th has its own name, Karmamsa. The 11th is Labhamsa, the 9th Bhagyamsa, the 6th Rogamsa, the 8th Nidhanamsa, the 12th Vyayamsa.

RASHI CHART, D1

THE SAME RASHI

NAVAMSHA, D9

Lagnamsa

Mars sits in Sagittarius in D9, and Sagittarius is the Lagna rashi in D1.

Mars in Leo in the rashi chart, Sagittarius lagna. In Navamsha it goes to Sagittarius, and in D1 that rashi is the Lagna itself.

Nine placements worked out live across the two classes, on the students' own charts.

On paper only the first is shown; open the HTML file to step through all nine.

Six more words for a graha's dignity

Beyond the bhava, the Navamsha rashi itself gives the graha a status, and each status has a name. हि HINDI CLASS One caution he added: Panchadha maitri is not applied in Navamsha. Only naisargika maitri, the natural friendship.

Shubhamsa

AND PAPAMSA

Wherever the graha sits in the rashi chart, if in Navamsha it goes into the amsha of Jupiter, Venus, Mercury or the Moon it is in Shubhamsa and its auspiciousness increases a little. Into the rashis of Saturn, Mars, Rahu or Ketu and it is in Papamsa, and the auspiciousness reduces a little. Very simple, and do not overstress the terms.

Ucchamsa

AND NEECHAMSA

Ordinary in the rashi chart but exalted in the Navamsha rashi is Ucchamsa, and it is very positive. If a graha can go into Ucchamsa it can equally go into Neechamsa. Always check whether the dignity is climbing from D1 to D9 or falling.

Swamsa

OWN RASHI

Sitting in its own rashi in the Navamsha.

Mitramsa

FRIEND'S RASHI

Sitting in a natural friend's rashi.

Shatrvamsa

ALSO RIPUAMSA

Sitting in a natural enemy's rashi. Do not confuse this with Rogamsa: Rogamsa is about landing in the 6th bhava's rashi, this one is about landing in an enemy graha's rashi.

Same tattva, same mode

Same tattva means the D9 rashi is trinal to the D1 rashi, the same element. Then you stay permanently motivated about that graha's natural significations. Self motivated, he called it: some drive, some inspiration keeps coming from inside. And the element colours the motivation. Water in both charts and you stay emotionally charged for that work. Earth in both and you have understood something practically, and that is what keeps you going.

हि HINDI CLASS

This is what he calls a level two Vargottama, the second grade.

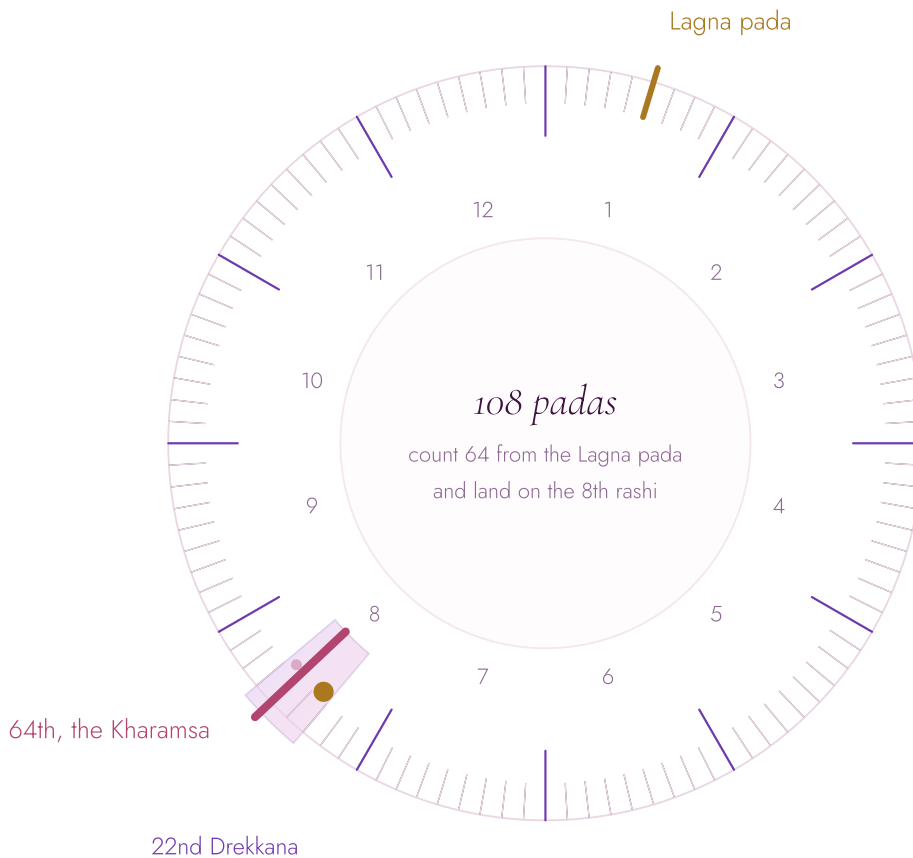

Same mode means the D9 rashi is in kendra from the D1 rashi: cardinal in both, or fixed in both, or dual in both. That fuels the graha's creation, sustenance or transformation ability accordingly, and gives the graha better support to deliver its results.

Notice the difference between this and the amsha naming. The naming asks which bhava the graha is supporting. This asks about the position of the graha relative to itself, D1 to D9. Both are worth having.

The 64th Navamsha, your marma point

Everyone flees from this one. Whichever pada of your Lagna rashi you were born in, the same pada of the 8th rashi from it is your 64th Navamsha. And note the word carefully: the pada of the rashi, not the nakshatra pada. हि HINDI CLASS Khara means mischievous.

The wide band is the 22nd Drekkana, the whole difficult territory. The lit tooth inside it is the Kharamsa, one pada only. Watch the malefic cross it.

Why 64. Nine padas to a rashi, so seven rashis take you to sixty three, and the sixty fourth falls on the same pada number of the eighth rashi. Sagittarius Lagna at 25 degrees 56 is the eighth pada, because the ninth begins at 26 degrees 40. So the 64th Navamsha is the eighth pada of Cancer, which is 23 degrees 20 to 26 degrees 40 of Cancer. हि HINDI CLASS

WORKED IN CLASS

Makara Lagna, 17°

The 6th pada, which runs 16°40' to 20°.
The 8th house holds Leo, so the Kharamsa is 16°40' to 20° of Leo.

WORKED IN CLASS

Pisces Lagna, 24°08'

The 8th pada. The 8th house holds
Libra, so the Kharamsa is 23°20' to 26°40' of Libra. Even when the transit table says the star is fine and the chakra is fine, this pada will be difficult.

WORKED IN CLASS हि HINDI CLASS

Scorpio Lagna, 12°52'

The 4th pada. The 8th rashi is Gemini, so the Kharamsa is the 4th pada of
Gemini, and the surrounding 22nd
Drekkana is Gemini 10° to 20°.

Two ways to find the Khara graha

First, the simplest fact of all: if no graha sits in your 8th house, there is nothing to worry about here. हि HINDI CLASS A Khara graha can only be a graha that is already there.

If there is one, you have two methods, and he ran both on the same chart. Sagittarius Lagna at 27 degrees 54, so the last pada, the ninth. Two grahas sat in the 8th house, Mercury and Jupiter.

METHOD ONE, BY DEGREES

Look at the pada

The Kharamsa is the last pada of Cancer.

Mercury sits at 28°54', which is inside the last pada, so Mercury is the Khara graha. Jupiter is at 17°, nowhere near it, so Jupiter is not.

METHOD TWO, THE SHORTCUT

Cross-check in the Navamsha

Of the grahas in the 8th house, which one also sits in the 4th house of the Navamsha? Mercury does. Same answer, no degrees needed. Both conditions have to happen together; sitting in the 8th alone does not make a graha Khara.

"Figure out the maths. I am not explaining it." The two methods agree because the 64th navamsha from the Lagna almost always lands in the 4th house of the Navamsha chart.

Kharamsa

THE PLACE

The single pada. In that chart, the ninth pada of Cancer.

Khara graha

THE GRAHA ITSELF

Any graha sitting in that pada. Its dignity and its auspiciousness both come down, and the karakatvas around it stay permanently vulnerable.

Khariesha

THE LORD

Whoever rules the 4th house of the Navamsha. In that chart it was Jupiter, and Jupiter was also the lagnesha and a yogakaraka, and still his auspiciousness came down a little by this rulership alone. Exactly like owning a 6th, 8th or 12th. You already know how to purify this.

22nd Drekkana

THE WIDER GROUND

A rashi split in three gives Drekkanas of 10° each: 0 to 10, 10 to 20, 20 to 30. The Drekkana holding your Kharamsa is the whole Khara territory. When the Lagna falls in the last pada, that last pada of the 8th rashi is both the 22nd Drekkana's edge and the 64th Navamsha, which makes it a doubly problematic area.

हि HINDI CLASS

Why it is called a marma point

This one pada is your most sensitive point. It is a marma. Anything at all that passes over it is going to hurt. हि HINDI CLASS

Which explains something you would otherwise get wrong in transits. Saturn transiting your 8th house, as such, you will not particularly feel. It is when Saturn crosses that pada that the real thing is felt. And it explains why anything going into the 8th is difficult at all: because the Kharamsa is sitting there.

Now hold the two together. The Drekkana is the wide difficult period and the 64th Navamsha is the trigger point inside it. A transit does not make the whole year, or the whole two years, miserable. Trouble arrives suddenly at the trigger point, and then you are not released from it until the full ten degrees is crossed. If a graha is also sitting there, the problems are escalated further. हि HINDI CLASS

If Rahu or Ketu come into that pada, do we count backwards for them, the way we do elsewhere?

No. Nothing to do. Keep it simple and take it as it is. It is a zone, an area. Whether a graha comes into it from this side or from that side makes no difference. Once it is in that area it is a Khara graha. हि HINDI CLASS

We have found the pada. How do we actually watch this in transit?

The moment you open Jagannatha Hora you get the current positions of every graha, and the transit calendar will give you a hundred days ahead for the faster ones. For Rahu, Ketu, Jupiter and Saturn, google them and build yourself a list: which graha enters which rashi over the coming ten years. Those four major transit dates should be ready at a glance. The Moon needs no googling at all, it is right there in the app. HINDI CLASS

And the homework he set alongside it: work out the Jupiter and Saturn transits and from them make the full double transit list, where and when the double transit falls over the next ten years. You should have that list.

ASKED IN CLASS

Should the 64th Navamsha be checked from the Moon and from the other grahas as well?

Yes. From the Lagna pada, from the Moon's pada, and one step further, from every graha. Whichever graha you are looking at, its significations get impacted by that gochara.

His worked example: if Mercury sits in the 64th Navamsha from Jupiter, Mercury acts as Khara to Jupiter. You want to study Jyotisha, and your friends and cousins, who are also Mercury, say "what are you doing, these are stupid things, leave it and let's go party." Mercury is still what gives you grasping power, so your intelligence is not against you. It works against you through its other karakatvas. That is how you learn which signification belongs in which context.

But do not take on too much right now. Practise with the Sun and the Moon, because you experience life through your mind and your intellect, which is why Lagna and Moon lead in gochara. "I am teaching you how to crawl, and you are asking me whether you will also be able to ski when you climb the Himalayas."

ASKED IN CLASS

Nidhanamsa and Ashtamamsa

They sound like the same word and they are not. Some schools treat them as one, which is exactly where the confusion comes from. This is the split we follow, and he settled it twice in one session.

Nidhanamsa

THE 8TH HOUSE RASHI OF YOUR D1

Look at which rashi sits in the 8th house of your rashi chart. Any graha that goes into that rashi in the Navamsha has gone into Nidhanamsa.

Taurus lagna, so the 8th rashi is Sagittarius: any graha in Sagittarius in D9 is in Nidhanamsa. Karka lagna, so the 8th rashi is Kumbha: the Moon, which is the lagnesha, landing in Kumbha in D9 is the lagnesha in Nidhanamsa.

Read it from the Lagna, from the Moon, and one step further, from each graha.

COUNTED FROM ITSELF

Ashtamamsa

THE 8TH RASHI COUNTED FROM THE GRAHA ITSELF

Wherever the graha sits in the rashi chart, if in the Navamsha it goes into the 8th rashi from itself, that is Ashtamamsa.

Jupiter in Cancer in the rashi chart going to Aquarius in the Navamsha. The Sun in Gemini going to Capricorn. The Sun in Sagittarius going to Cancer.

There are many ways people count Ashtamamsa, and many opinions. This is the one the text clearly indicates, so this is the one we follow.

WHAT NIDHANAMSA DOES

It empowers your 8th house

A graha in your Bhagya supports your Bhagya. A graha in your Karma supports your Karma. A graha in Nidhanamsa is feeding the 8th house, according to its own attributes, so it brings more karmic retribution, more suffering, more misery. Several grahas there simply means more of the 8th being strengthened.

The same strength has another door. If you are spiritual, into occult, learning Jyotisha and the esoteric sciences, it can strengthen those studies instead.

Retrograde there means repeated effort, to come out of the misery or to learn. And a yogakaraka landing in Nidhanamsa simply loses some of the beneficence it holds.

WHAT ASHTAMAMSA DOES

हि HINDI CLASS

It silences the good and amplifies the bad

Stated plainly: a graha that was going to give auspicious results stops giving them. A graha that gives malefic results gives even more of them.

His worked case. Cancer Jupiter sitting in somebody's 2nd house. At first sight you would say: wonderful, you will have great wealth, a respected family, you will be very religious, there will be force in your speech, you will talk of spiritual things. But if that Jupiter has gone into Aquarius in the Navamsha, the 8th from itself, none of it happens. And you will keep hunting for the reason why such a good Jupiter is giving no result. It went into Ashtamamsa.

Now read the shlokas the way he does

These come from different places, some from Jataka Parijata, some from Deva Keralam. He put them on the table deliberately, so you can see where the schools of thought parted, and so that when somebody quotes a text at you, you know how to answer.

लग्नेशे निधनांशस्थे मूढे षष्ठगतेऽथवा ।

क्षुद्धाधया च मरणं बन्धुहीने महीतले ॥

*lagneśe nidhanāṁsasthe mūḍhe ṣaṣṭhagate'thavā |
kṣudbādhayā ca maraṇaṁ bandhu-hīne mahītale ||*

"If the lord of the Ascendant is situated in Nidhanamsa, is afflicted or combust, or is situated in the sixth house, there is death through hunger, or death upon the earth without relatives."

THE WORDS mūḍhe is where the schools split. Mudha is someone dumbstruck: knowing a thing and still not understanding it. It can be read as stambhit, frozen; as asta, combust and hidden by the Sun's rays; or as afflicted by malefics, in dwipapa dosha, in tripapa dosha. हि HINDI CLASS And note the athava: it says or. Any one of these conditions is enough.

HIS READING

He has this in his own chart. "I was petrified when I saw this first." Then he went researching, and found the same in Mahatma Gandhi's chart and in Indira Gandhi's. Neither died of hunger. Neither died abroad; Indira Gandhi was killed at her own house. Both died unnaturally, but that is a different matter, read from other things. And he has also seen charts of people who really did die abroad, away from family, with nothing of this in the chart at all. "I am not saying the Rishis wrote something wrong. I am saying we should not conclude from reading one shloka."

The gravity, and the people on YouTube

"You will see plenty of people on YouTube quoting shloka after shloka, and you will think, what a scholar, look, he has quoted the shloka." One verse lifted out of the middle, shown on the screen, this is what it means, if this happens then that happens. It is written in the granth, and we cannot call a Rishi wrong.

No, we cannot. But tell the whole thing. Give its context. Say in which place, explaining which subject, they said it. There is a tradition and a method to reading a granth, built up slowly and in the right order. If we do not follow the whole process and try to interpret one verse pulled from the middle, we will make mistakes every time.

ON NIDHANAMSA

लग्नेशे निधनांशस्थे लग्नांशे निधनेश्वरे ।
पापयुक्ते तदा जातः पञ्चाशद्वर्षजीवितः ॥ lagneśe nidhanāṁsasthe lagnāṁśe nidhaneśvare / pāpayukte tadā jātaḥ pañcāśad-varṣa-jīvitah ॥

"If the lord of the Ascendant is in Nidhanamsa, and the lord of the 8th house is in Lagnamsa, and the two are associated with malefics, then the native lives for fifty years."

WORKED

Karka Lagna. The lagnesha is the Moon, and it has to sit in Kumbha in the Navamsha, which is the rashi of the 8th house. The 8th lord is Saturn, and it has to sit in Karka in the Navamsha, which is the Lagna rashi. And both must be joined by or aspected by malefics. Then the fifty years. हि HINDI CLASS

THE ETHICS

"Such a bold statement to make." Think about telling someone their lifespan is fifty when they are running their fiftieth year. They will ask which month. Do not trust anyone on this; he has tested many such theories and most do not work. Know it as a contributing factor and note it down.

That slide said fifty years. Can a chart actually show the junctures of death, even untimely death? On my father's side there has been a lot of it.

A very complicated topic. Many scriptural texts, many scholars who have researched it, and most of it does not work. He has studied longevity as far as he could take it, applied Jaimini's triple rules, read it from many sources, and no old rule he has understood has ever proved reliable on its own. No rule can tell you which year a person will live until. Even ascertaining whether someone has alpayu, madhyayu or purnayu, the short, medium or full span, fails when you follow that algorithm alone. हि HINDI CLASS

Combining them is different. There is the Pindayu method, a very large and detailed calculation described in Jataka Parijata; he applied that fully as well. Only when many methods were joined together did an approximate sense of the lifespan begin to appear. Very detailed, very complicated calculation. So it is not that these things are useless. They are useful, and never in isolation.

It is not in the curriculum. It may appear in the fourth semester, which stays deliberately floaty depending on student interest and on finding the right expert; the teacher they brought last year declined, saying the students were not ready. They are also exploring building an AI model around it, still work in progress.

"Everything you can think of, nature has already put into Jyotisha. You can figure it out, but you have to decode it. And nature is too smart: if too many things are decoded, nature changes the pattern. The sutras that applied a hundred years ago do not work any more, because nature has changed and society has evolved."

ASKED IN CLASS

निधनांशो धने जीवे नीचांशस्थे निशाकरे ।

आषोडशाब्दपर्यन्तमेकयोगफलं स्मृतम् ॥ nidhanāṁśo dhane jīve nīcāṁsasthe niśākare / ā-ṣoḍaśābda-paryantam eka-yoga-phalaṁ smṛtam ॥

"When Jupiter is in the 2nd house in Nidhanamsa and the Moon is in its debilitation Navamsha, the result of Eka-yoga is said to continue up to sixteen years."

DECODED jīve is Jupiter. dhane is the 2nd house. niśākare is "the one who causes the night", which is how the Moon is named poetically, and its debilitation navamsha is Scorpio. ṣoḍaśa is sixteen. Eka-yoga is the yoga of poverty. Three conditions in three words, and sixteen years without wealth.

THE POINT We already knew how fine Jupiter in the 2nd house is. So you will ask how this person is in such a poor family, why they are living in such poverty. Because Jupiter went into Nidhanamsa, and the Moon went into its debilitation. हि HINDI CLASS

"By being situated in Nidhanamsa, the native becomes sinful through association with another man's woman." Corrected live: this is the 7th lord in Nidhanamsa, not Jupiter.

CAREFUL

The verse sits inside a whole chapter on the lord of the seventh, which is how he knew what was missing; he went back to the book mid class and fixed the slide. "If you predict this for somebody from this alone, lives will be ruined." It is a Rishi's word and we cannot falsify it, and you will have to read the entire marriage chapter alongside it. It is supportive, it helps you conclude when twenty or thirty other rules are read together. It is never a definitive answer on its own.

THE NAMES Learn the alternative Sanskrit names and your strength in Jyotisha grows. yugma means a couple, which is why Mithuna is also called that. cāpa is the bow, so Dhanu. kuṭīra is Karka. हि HINDI CLASS

SIMPLIFIED Every pair listed is the Sun going into the 8th from itself. So: the Sun in a dual sign in D1, going into the 8th rashi from itself in the Navamsha, causes a short life. Run the percentage and it is uncomfortable again. The Sun spends four months of the year in dual signs, and one twelfth of the time it lands in the 8th from itself, which puts you at roughly one person in forty eight being short lived. Does it look like that around you? So we cannot rest on this one either. हि HINDI CLASS

NOTICE

Each pair is again the 8th from itself. Sagittarius to Cancer, Capricorn to Leo, Pisces to Libra. See how clearly Ashtamamsa is being spelled out.

"When Jupiter is in the 2nd house, having avoided Ashtamamsa, the native is happy, learned, sweet-spoken, well-mannered and devoted to dharma."

THE CATCH

Do not see Jupiter in the 2nd and say "oh, all good thing, fantastic." Wait. First check it has not gone into the 8th sign from itself in the Navamsha. Only then does the good result stand, and then you get all of it: learned, sweet spoken, humble, devoted to dharma, and happy.

"When Ketu is in Pisces in Libra Navamsha, the native is deprived of marital happiness; associates with other people's spouses, is lustful, and suffers from urinary disorders."

NOTICE

Ketu in Pisces is a sight we are usually happy about: the moksha karaka in the most spiritual rashi. And then it goes into the 8th from itself and this is the result.

हि HINDI CLASS

It also fits what we said about Ketu Maharaj being a karaka of the husband in a woman's chart.

लग्नाष्टमगते केतावष्टमांशे च संस्थिते ।

"When Ketu is in the 8th from the Ascendant and situated in Ashtamamsa, during its Dasha and Antardasha there may be fear or experience of thieves from time to time. When Rahu is in the 2nd house, there is loss or severance of wealth during its own Dasha and Antardasha."

WHY BOTH

When Ketu is in the 8th, Rahu is necessarily in the 2nd, and Rahu goes into Ashtamamsa alongside. So one verse covers the pair: thefts keep happening in the one dasha, and in the other your wealth gets separated from you, which bites hardest when you are earning well.

When you approach these scriptural texts you have to be a little open minded. If you stay stuck on the words as written, even with a correct translation, even knowing Sanskrit, it gets very difficult to move further in Jyotisha.

— THE METHOD FOR READING SHLOKAS —

What your consciousness is woven from

Open Jagannatha Hora and simply read the nakshatra pada numbers of the ten bodies, from Lagna through Ketu and no further. No Gulika, no Mandi. Each pada number names a purushartha, and the tally shows the proportion you are made in.

PADA 1

Dharma

These grahas support your dharma. Four or five here: fantastic, work on dharma.

PADA 2

Artha

Resource building. More grahas here, do not hesitate. Earn money, be resourceful.

PADA 3

Kama

Fulfilment of desire, fun, frolic, joy. You are the life of the party, and it can be done in a satvik way: organise satsang, dance along with everyone.

PADA 4

Moksha

Your own space, your own freedom. My time, my space. Do not read this as "very good person".

Open the HTML file to tally your own ten bodies and watch the cloth weave itself.

count your ten bodies

Your cloth, as you count it

Consider your consciousness a fabric, and the purusharthas the threads that went into weaving it. Look at the ten bodies and you can see what percentage of which thread went into you. Once you know what you are made of, you know what purpose to put yourself to. A cotton cloth will be used for cleaning. A silk cloth will be used on the puja altar, in your worship place. There is no good or bad in it.

Too much moksha pada and such people are very difficult to live with. They need so much "me time" that you will never get them. He has seen people who after marriage do not want husband or wife entering their room. Then why did you get married? Zero moksha pada and there are no boundaries at all: sharing everything with everyone, not minding using somebody else's toothbrush, six or seven boys in one hostel bed lying on each other all night.

Do not correct people out of their own weave. If somebody shows a lot of kama purushartha, let them. Otherwise the life goes by and they say "I have done nothing I wanted to do", because they were living as society influenced them and not as their nature. He described parents whose son has six grahas in moksha: he loves Gurudev, Gurudev loves him, but he will not come along and will not follow the programme. These are free spirited people. You cannot bind them. They need their own world.

Brahma, Vishnu, Rudra, read in Navamsha

Again take the ten bodies, and see which third of the zodiac they fall into in the Navamsha chart. It tells you which shakti you actually carry, and, before any business, what kind of partner you need beside you.

Brahma shakti, creation

Rashis 1 to 4

You can create new things. Five bodies here and you are a creative engine, but sustenance is not your cup of tea.

Vishnu shakti, sustenance

Rashis 5 to 8

Holding, maintaining and managing what already exists.

Rudra shakti, dissolution

Rashis 9 to 12

Very strong in army, police and spies. Fits businesses of disposal, demolition and shredding.

His worked case: three bodies in Brahma, one in Vishnu, five or six in Rudra. That person creates about 30 percent, maintains 10 percent of it, and dissolves 60 percent. How can they build an empire, unless the nature of the business is destruction?

The practical use. Make an informed decision and partner with somebody whose forte is sustenance. He notes what usually goes wrong: creative people find good managers very irritating, because they are dynamic and think "what kind of dumb person is this, why can't he do this or that?" There is a lot of difference of opinion. But if those two can partner, they can really build a big empire.

Career is an advanced topic still to come. As with everything else here, these are add ons. When twenty or thirty factors are brought together and you are totally confused which way to go, these small factors show the inclination. Assistant knowledge, serving the main frame of knowledge.

The heart, and how to get good at this

One more house before the method, and it is the one he called the trigger point of the whole Navamsha.

The moksha trikona of the Navamsha

4, 8 and 12 of the Navamsha are its moksha trikona, and among them the trigger point is the fourth. हि HINDI CLASS

The 4th of the Navamsha is your heart. Your antah hridaya, the inner heart, the place where God sits. Which is why a graha sitting there needs purification if you are walking a spiritual path: without purifying the heart there is no samadhi and there is no mukti. He was careful about the phrasing when asked. It is not that you must. It is that if you are spiritual, you will not be able to move forward without it.

And the 10th of the Navamsha is the other end of the same thread: what you did, and whom you served, in your past lives. We did a great many things, good ones too, and we have brought a selection of those karmas with us, which is why the chart looks the way it does. Our chart is made from our prarabdha, and everything we ever did cannot reflect in it at once.

Build the ready reckoner now, not later

As you start revising, make one Excel file with several sheets in it, and file every sutra you have learned into the sheet where it belongs. He named them.

Career & Finance

Marriage
AND RELATIONSHIPS

Medical

Spirituality

Child Birth

Timing
OF EVENTS

He has taught many things in many different places, and this is how you keep track of which one goes where. Then when the same sutra reappears later, or gets extended, you add it to the same sheet. By the end you have a complete ready reckoner, sutra by sutra, topic by topic. "Otherwise it will all stay random. You will forget some and remember some. So start organising it from now."

*If you rely only on logic while learning Jyotish, you will be utterly confused.
Observe more, think less.*

— CLOSING ADVICE —

He has seen students who have been learning Jyotish for ten or twelve years and still cannot read a chart properly, and the reason is always the same: they rely only on logic. There are logics, of course, obvious things you simply apply and see the result. But delving only into logic will lead you astray. See people's charts, look at their lives, and observation gives you the confidence in what you have learned. Otherwise you stay in "this can also happen, that can also happen" forever, and the confidence never comes.

"If I say something in a consultation, sometimes I am so confident that come what may, this is going to happen. Come back to me after six months and tell me if it has not happened. I am confident because I have seen it happening in so many charts."

ASKED AT THE ASHRAM, ANSWERED IN ONE LINE हि HINDI CLASS

How long does it take?

At the contact classes at the ashram there was a meeting with Gurudev. The best students, a full year of study behind them, had understood everything and could conclude quite well by then. So they asked: Gurudev, we have learned all of this, but how do these skills come? How does the intuition come?

Gurudev answered in one line: "Look, this has to be done your whole life. Ask him how many great scholars come to the ashram. Nothing happens in one year." He did not say it bluntly, but he made them realise it. Then he told him: ask them, look how many scholars of seventy and eighty come here, people who have given their whole lives to Jyotisha.

Which is what colleges used to tell us, he said. What you study in college is very basic, it is the beginning of learning. The real learning starts when you begin the experience: the job, the interaction with people. "I am preparing an opening for you, so that you can begin well. Learning goes on for a whole life."

The mark of a knowledgeable person is precisely this: after a while you begin to see how much you know and how much you do not. Talk to the truly great people in this field and they will say they only know the surface of it.

Which is also why he has little patience for what is sold outside. Learn to read your chart in three days, in one week. He registered for one of them himself, a thousand rupees, just to see. They teach you that these are the houses, and nothing more; about as much as he gives away in a free two hour workshop while travelling. It is not exactly rubbish. It is a trailer: it creates the interest, and it is a genuinely enjoyable subject, so people come out feeling they understood something. Now you know how much there actually is to understand. हि HINDI CLASS

And to the student who asked, quite reasonably, how anyone is supposed to reach a conclusion with this much to look at: it comes gradually, as you go. He cannot teach in two or three hours what there is to teach. Learn patiently. What is the hurry to conclude?

In Jagannatha Hora there are two calculation methods, Drik Siddhanta and Surya Siddhanta. Which one should we pick?

Drik Siddhanta, which is already the default. We are not dabbling in Surya Siddhanta for now.

Beyond that: do not go and change any settings. There are thousands of them, and if you make changes here and there he will not be able to help you work out which one you changed. Set it back to default and make only the changes he has shared with you. Nothing else.

ASKED IN CLASS

Venus rules both my 4th and my 9th. Does that one common lord make the connection for Gajakesari?

No. One graha ruling both is not a combination. A yoga needs two energies meeting and focusing in one place. It takes two to tango. The karmic connection between the two rashis is always there, and the rashis do aspect each other, but that is a different matter, and it is not a yoga by itself.

Then he turned it around, which is the more useful half: when you are talking about your own chart, you should not be confused. You know what Gajakesari is and how it manifests. Is it manifesting in your life? Do you feel confident and calm? Gurudev's own image for it, from a recent talk: be like a lion, not a cock running here and there. Be lazy, but be confident, knowing that whatever has to come to me will come to me. If that faith and grace is there, the yoga is manifesting.

ASKED IN CLASS

Can Mars and Ketu together in the 5th house indicate a Caesarean birth? What about Mars aspecting the Lagna?

Mars and Ketu together in the 5th: possible. Mars merely aspecting the Lagna: not necessarily. These are not the only combinations for a Caesarean, and he has not taught how to read a Caesarean at all. He was showing how to rectify a birth chart using certain markers. With the disclaimer he repeated: none of the rectification techniques are 100 percent foolproof, in his experience.

ASKED IN CLASS

Do the grahas in the Navamsha give their effect during their own mahadasha?

He would not answer it yet. "Let me teach you mahadasha and antardasha, then we will talk." There is no simple answer to it: different things are looked at in different contexts, and he will explain it in detail when the time comes.

हि HINDI CLASS

ASKED IN CLASS

What is coming: the second semester changes gear completely. It is all about combinations and results, never in isolation, learning the whole algorithm and then observing the results. No new lesson is being added this semester; these weeks are for revision and observation, the mock test link comes a week before the exam, and the question paper is being rewritten. From the third semester the internship begins officially, on paper, with the top tier joining live consultations. And Navamsha itself does not end here. "Navamsha cannot be taught in three or four classes. This is just an opening, food for thought, so that you start thinking in this direction. We keep learning about Navamsha for the next two years."

His last instruction on questions, for the rest of the course: do not bring him two or three conditions and ask what it means. Bring your own understanding, and he will correct it if it needs correcting.

*Do not over stress yourself. Do not over analyse whatever you have learned.
Just keep observing in different charts. If you build your observation well, you will do excellently well in Jyotisha.*

— THE LAST WORD OF THE CLASS —

Everything, in one glance

Every term from both classes, with the exact move that identifies it.

TERM

HOW TO FIND IT

Karakamsha

The rashi holding the Chara Atma Karaka in D9. The rashi matters more than the bhava. A whole Karakamsha Kundali can be cast from it as Lagna.

12th from Karakamsha

Dissolution of the self. Read its graha, dignity, rashi tattva, graha drishti and rashi drishti.

Meena amsa

Jupiter and Ketu together, param gyan and vairagya. It is the last navamsha of every water sign.

The six Ishta windows

12th from Karakamsha, D9 4th, D9 10th, D1 5th, D1 9th, D1 12th, read together.

Moksha trikona of D9

The 4th, 8th and 12th of the Navamsha, with the 4th as the trigger point and the seat of the heart.

Bhavatmaka amsa

Graha's D9 rashi, then find that rashi in D1: its bhava names the amsa, and the graha is feeding that bhava from below.

Kendramsa

Lands in the 1st, 4th, 7th or 10th. Lagnamsa, Chaturthamsa, Saptamsa, Dashamamsa or Karmamsa.

Bhagyamsa · Labhamsa

Lands in the 9th, lands in the 11th. Dignity goes up.

Rogamsa · Nidhanamsa · Vyayamsa

Lands in the 6th, the 8th, the 12th. Dignity goes down.

Shubhamsa · Papamsa

Into a Jupiter, Venus, Mercury or Moon amsa, or into a Saturn, Mars, Rahu or Ketu amsa.

TERM	HOW TO FIND IT
Ucchamsa · Neechamsa	Exalted, or debilitated, in the Navamsha rashi.
Swamsa · Mitramsa · Shatrvamsa	Own rashi, natural friend's rashi, natural enemy's rashi. Only naisargika maitri applies in Navamsha, never panchadha maitri.
Same tattva	D9 rashi trinal to the D1 rashi. Self motivated. Level two Vargottama.
Same mode	D9 rashi in kendra from the D1 rashi. Fuels creation, sustenance or transformation.
Kharamsa, the 64th Navamsha	The same pada number as the Lagna's, in the 8th rashi. Pada of the rashi, not of the nakshatra.
Khara graha	A graha in the 8th house of D1 that also goes into the 4th house of D9. Or, by degrees, one sitting inside that pada.
Kharesha	The rashi lord of the Navamsha 4th house. Adds maleficence by rulership alone.
22nd Drekkana	A 10° third of a rashi. The wide Khara territory; the Kharamsa is the trigger point inside it.
Nidhanamsa	Graha in D9 sitting in the rashi that occupies your D1 8th house. Read from Lagna, Moon and each graha.
Ashtamamsa	Graha goes into the 8th rashi from itself in Navamsha. Benefics stop delivering, malefics deliver more.
Purushartha padas	Nakshatra pada of the 10 bodies, Lagna to Ketu. 1 dharma, 2 artha, 3 kama, 4 moksha.

TERMHOW TO FIND IT

Brahma · Vishnu · Rudra shakti

Bodies in D9 rashis 1 to 4, 5 to 8, 9 to 12.
Creation, sustenance, dissolution.

Vighati

24 seconds. One human soul per vighati, shifting with roughly every 27 to 28 km.

Notes from the 22 August class, English and Hindi sessions merged.

The teacher's words only. Jai Gurudev.
